Driver Dies When Small Car, Truck Collide

Driver of a small English make car, west bound, was instantly killed about 5:45 o'clock last Sunday morning when he collided head-on with a semi-trailer. The accident occurred on U. S. 30, about three-quarters of a mile west of Wolf road.

Will County Coroner Willard G. Blood believed it was probable that the victim had fallen asleep at the wheel and his car veered over into the eastbound lane and into the path of the semi-trailer, which was loaded with meat.

Driver of the small car was Walter Maples, 33, who had been residing at the Joliet YMCA but whose home was at Knoxville, Tenn. Maples' neck was broken.

Driver of the truck was George Franklin, 31, of Fort Worth, Tex. He escaped injury but his relief driver, Luther Farmer, 24, also of Fort Worth, suffered cuts and bruises.

Injuries Fatal to E. T. Anderson

Funeral services were held yesterday morning for Elmer T. Anderson, 62, of Lockport, who died early Monday morning at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, from injuries suffered Sunday night when struck by a car. He was a brother of Leonard Anderson, New Lenox contractor, and Mrs. William (Alice) Kasper, of Mokena.

The services were conducted from the Miller funeral home at Lockport at 9 o'clock to St. Denis church at 9:30. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

Mr. Anderson was crossing State street in Lockport, between 14th and 15th streets, when he was struck by a north bound automobile driven by James F. Holloway, 29, of Rt. 1, Lockport. The accident occurred a little after 9 o'clock. Holloway told police that he did not see anyone in the street. He felt his car strike something and stopped, he added, and then saw a man lying in the street.

Anderson was rushed to the hospital where he died around 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Besides his wife, Mary, Mr. Anderson is survived by a son Elmer, the brother and sister already mentioned and another sister, Mrs. Edward (Edith) Ekkert, of Lemont.

Play Program Attracts Youth

The recreation program sponsored by the village of New Lenox got under way Monday with 35 youngsters in attendance despite gray skies and a temperature more akin to early spring or fall rather than mid-June.

Actually—except for going and coming to the Lions Den—the weather should affect only outdoor activities. The Lions have made their entire set up, outside and inside, available to the village for its recreation program.

Ronald Larsen and Carl Werner, who are in charge of the activities have things the youngsters can do indoors as well as out.

Naturally, most of the youngsters prefer outdoor activities at this season of the year. It can't rain every day, those in charge figure, so for next week a croquet tournament is planned. There will be singles and doubles for boys and girls and there is a bike hike on the agenda too.

The supervised play program runs Monday thru Friday from 9 a.m. to noon.

L-W Teacher Takes Trip to Britain

Mrs. John Sullivan, teacher at Lincoln-Way high school, and her husband, who is manager of the Leath furniture store in Joliet, left last Friday by plane for a three-weeks visit in England. They will endeavor to meet Miss Ella Juul Jensen, at her home in Denmark, who will be coming to this area in August as an exchange pupil.

2 Orland Boys Suffer Burns in Flash Fire in Supply Trailer

Two Orland Park boys were burned last week in a gasoline flash fire and one of them, Andrew Von Vogt, 9 years old, is in St. Francis hospital, Blue Island with second and third degree burns to his lower extremities and one hand.

The other lad, Timothy Hardy, 10, suffered burns to his hands in attempting to jerk the flaming trousers off of the Von Vogt boy, it was said. Timothy was taken to St. Francis hospital along with Andrew by Orland Park firemen and after receiving first aid was released.

The incident occurred on Wednesday of last week, June 11 at Orland Park Hills, a new development where homes are under construction. There are many houses being erected and the crew of plumbers working there have a trailer in which they keep some of their supplies.

This trailer is kept locked, it was explained, and was locked on Wednesday of last week. The two boys, it was said, apparently gained entrance thru a window. There was some gasoline in the trailer, for use in blowtorches, and in some manner some of the gasoline was spilled on the floor—some of it on the Van Vogt boy's pants—and the gasoline became ignited.

The trailer door could be opened from the inside and the two boys are said to have opened it and fled. They were seen by a workman and an alarm turned in to the fire department. The boys were rushed to the hospital.

Andy's condition is described as serious and he is in need of blood donors. Eight donors are needed, it was said and persons who will give blood are asked to contact the blood bank at St. Francis hospital and make the necessary arrangements. Blood is taken at certain hours.

Orland Bank Alters Schedule for Holidays

The Orland State Bank directors voted some six years ago not to do business on Saturdays. Last week the board amended this ruling in order that it might provide its customers with service on long week-ends, such as the Fourth of July will be this year.

The service will be limited, however, to acceptance of deposits, cashing of checks and making change. The hours will be from 9 to 12 noon.

The resolution adopted states in part that the bank shall remain open on Saturdays following a Friday preceding or a Monday following when one of the following legal holidays occur:

New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving (if proclaimed for one of those days) and Christmas.

Marley Observance

For the 76th year, the Marley residents will observe the Fourth of July. It will be held in the Haley Park next to the Marley church and will start at 11 a.m., when the picnic lunch will be available.

At 1:30 a program will be given and at 2:30 will be the races, contest, games of skill and other entertainment, all under the beautiful trees, if the weather is good. Otherwise the luncheon and program will be held in the church dining hall.

Paul Gibson has been heard to say on radio, that there is no place anywhere near Chicago where a good old fashion July 4 picnic and celebration is held any more. He should travel 30 miles southwest of Chicago to Marley, and learn that he is mistaken.

Legion Post at Frankfort Plans Homecoming

The American Legion post at Frankfort—officially known as Bobzin-Swinford post, No. 1098—is sponsoring a homecoming over the Fourth of July week-end.

The affair will cover a three day period, July 4, 5 and 6, and is to be staged in the Frankfort village park.

A fireworks display is scheduled for the night of the Fourth, starting at 9:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon's program will be highlighted with a children's parade.

On Sunday night, July 6, there will be a flag burning ceremony at 9:30 o'clock. Half an hour later, in winding up the homecoming celebration, a grand award of $500 will be made.

There will be rides for the youngsters and various booths and concessions.

Softball games are on the card for each evening.

Manhattan to Hold Its Homecoming; Will Have Parade

The village of Manhattan will hold their annual homecoming June 27, 28 and 29 on the Manhattan grade school grounds.

Among the highlights for the three days will be 'Red' Blanchard and Beaver Valley Sweethearts from WLS National Barn dance. They will be on the program June 28.

There will be an All-Star game between the Eastern and Western divisions of the Small Fry and between Babe Ruth Tricounty leagues on Friday night, June 27, the first game to start at 6 p.m.

The big parade will take place on Sunday, June 29 starting at 1 p.m. There will be many carnival features on the midway all three days.

Directors expressed their appreciation.

The old rate was 71 cents; the new rate will be 92 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation. The new rate is expected to produce a revenue of $13,168 as compared to $10,162.

Lots of Weather

Rains, and High Wind Hits Area

Rain—in extremely short supply in the area for so many months—has become plentiful again, almost too much so, and this precipitation, plus high winds and a see-sawing temperature has made weather the prime conversation piece for the past two weeks.

Tornado alerts issued by the weather bureau for northeastern Illinois added to the stress and strain last Friday.

People were warned by radio and TV that tornadoes might strike in the region from 1 o'clock Friday afternoon to 10 o'clock Friday night. And the appearance of the sky and the heavy atmosphere gave ample backing to the warning.

Tinley Park police squads toured that village with sirens sounding, and announced that if the residents heard the sirens repeated they were to seek cover as a tornado would have been sighted.

This precaution was taken in the event some citizens did not have radio or TV sets turned on.

Several persons reported seeing funnel shaped clouds but added that they were whirling along aloft and were not near the ground.

There was considerable confusion in such reports, however. Some people claimed that a tornado was heading for the southwest side of Tinley Park. Others in the same area said they saw a funnel cloud but it appeared to be to the west—near Frankfort or Joliet.

Persons in Frankfort reported seeing such a cloud but thought it was over Mokona and enroute Orland Park. No one in Mokena reported seeing anything of such nature and at Orland there were residents who were sure they had seen a tornado cloud but thought it was in the vicinity of Tinley.

Whether funnel-shaped clouds actually were in the area was not confirmed by the weather bureau but none was reported to have struck nor was there any wind damage as far as is known.

There were heavy rains and thunder and lightning.

The recent heavy rains have taken a toll of grain crops in the area, it was reported. Some farmers have lost a lot of corn in portions of fields that lay under water for several days and probably will replace it with 90-day varieties.

Palos-Orland "Y" Fund Drive Nearing Goal

The Palos-Orland YMCA finance campaign has reached $7977 or two-thirds of its goal to date with a number of calls to make yet to be completed. Over 125 workers have participated in the campaign and assured a YMCA program in this area for this year. Jack DeBacher has served as general chairman with Mrs. C. W. Badger, John Allyn, George Carroll, and James Gee serving as division leaders.

Captains for Palos Park include: Mrs. Robert Carpenter, Mrs. Purdy Bradford, Mrs. E. A. Galapeaux, and Al Larson. Lindenmeyer, M.

Palos Heights captains are: Mrs. Frank Radwick, Mrs. Paul Lindenmeyer, Mrs. Lawrence Riesbeck, Fred Minuth and Donald Lalley.

Orland has Mrs. Margaret Loebe, Gene Kanost, Robert Snyder, and Mrs. June Brown.

Those in charge of the program hope that a large membership may be developed so that YMCA facilities may be built in the near future. A committee of management has been chosen to guide this program and a progress report will be given later.

Reservations are now being taken for Day Camp, Swimming Classes and Fun Club trips thruout the summer. One may call George Shriver at Gibson 8-3888 for additional information.

Special Apron

For Ding Dong Teacher

Mrs. E. A. Osmus of New Lenox who has gained quite a pleasant reputation by uniquely designing aprons and presenting them to important women of our nation, has made two aprons for Dr. Mary Francis of Ding Dong school.

Dr. Francis conducts this school each morning at 9 a.m. on channel 9 on TV, in which she explains to the children the wherefore of aprons, etc.

The aprons Mrs. Osmus made for Dr. Francis depicts a school bell, made of blue polka dots and another apron of red checkered material. In her letter of thanks to Mrs. Osmus, Dr. Francis indicated she would use Mrs. Osmus' apron on this morning's program.

Make Plans for Fourth of July

Orland Park will have a real celebration on July 4, with a parade, fireworks and everything that goes to make a pleasant day.

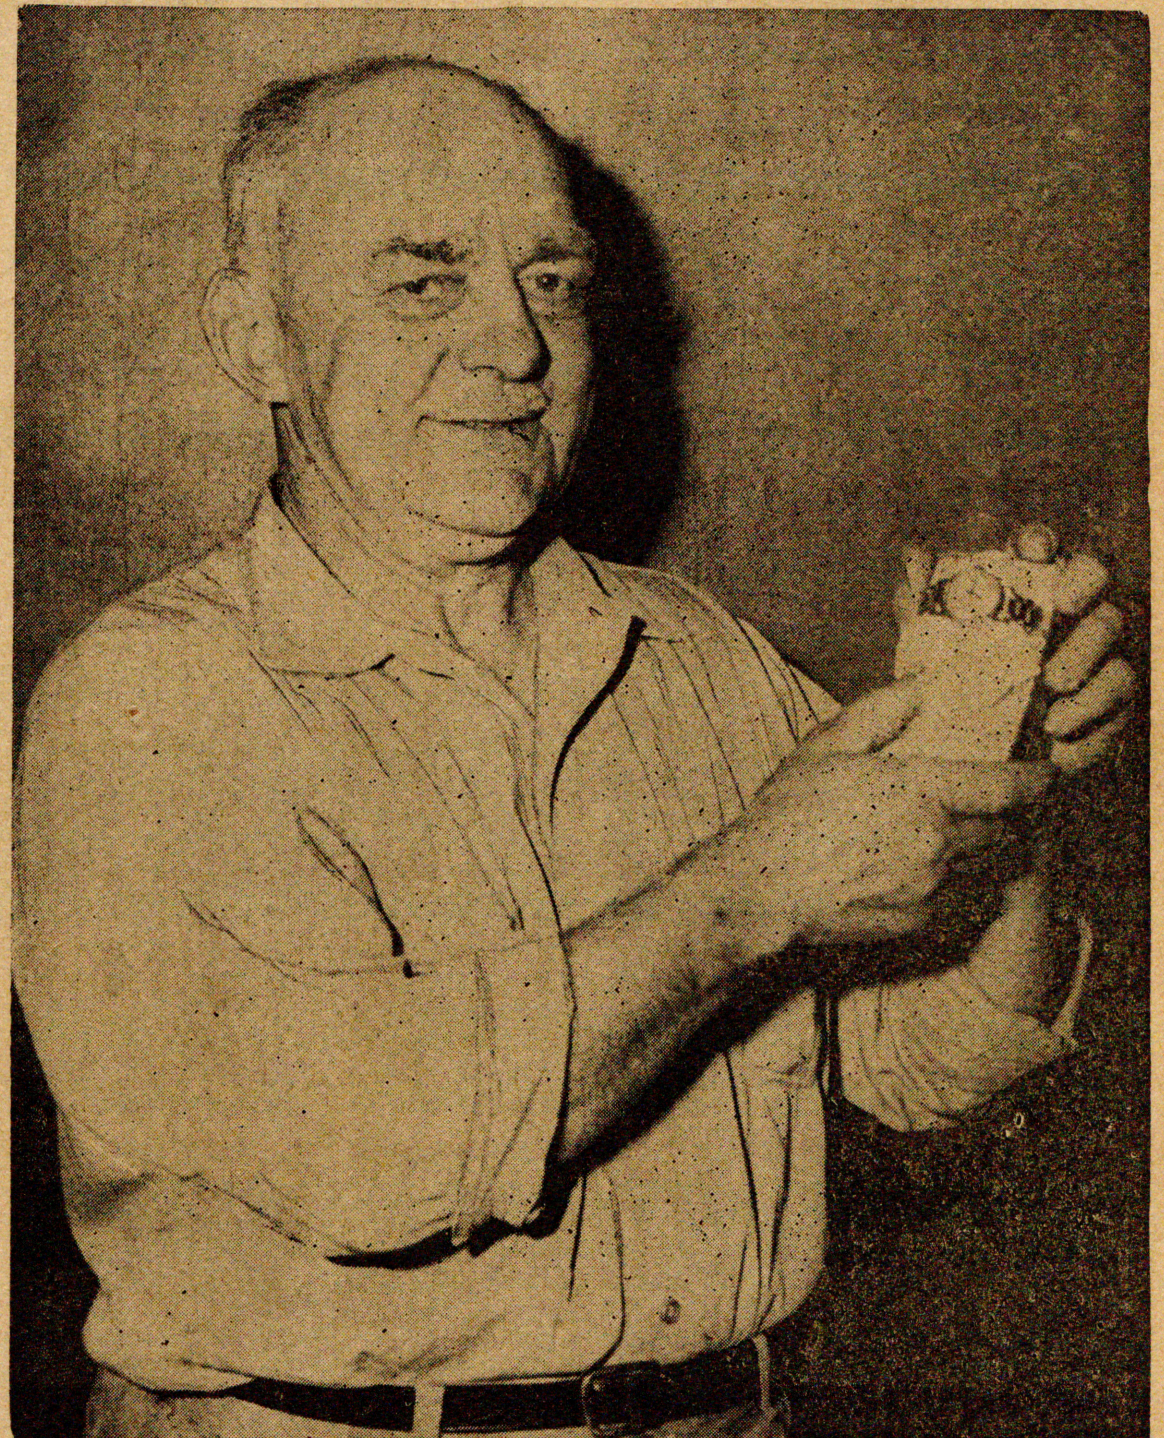

The Orland Park American Legion Post is the sponsor and invites everyone in the area not to travel the crowded high ways, but instead come to Orland and have a good time.

The Orland Park American Legion members have just completed a fine new hall, on 143rd st., just east of route 45, which they will dedicate that day. Activities will start in the afternoon with a parade which will leave from their starting point, 143rd st. and West ave. and travel east to the hall. Arriving there, the dedication will take place followed by an open house, when everyone may roam thru the building and see the rooms and facilities. In the evening a dance will be held, followed by fireworks.

Trophies for the parade will be given for the best youth group, fire department, bands and marching units. Everyone is invited to go to Orland Park on July 4 afternoon and evening.

Benjamin Franklin introduced the broom to America.

TESTIMONIAL FOR SERVICE—Iver Benson, 59, 14332 Beacon st., Orland Park, who has served as custodian for the public grade school there for more than 20 years, is pleased and proud of the action taken by the board of education. As a token of the members appreciation of Mr. Benson's devotion to his duties they presented him with a handsome watch during the recent graduation ceremonies. Since he took over in 1937 Mr. Benson has had but one aim, to do the best job he can and it has paid him well in the friends he has made among pupils, teachers and other members of the community.

State Plans to Widen, Blacktop Part of U. S. 45

The state division of highways plans to widen and resurface U. S. Route 45 between U. S. Route 30 and U. S. 52, a distance of approximately 11.2 miles.

The existing 20-foot concrete pavement is to be widened to 24 feet and resurfaced with bituminous concrete this fall. There are several substandard bridge structures and several deficiencies in vertical alignment which require correction. This work including the widening of 8-foot shoulders and regarding ditches for a distance of approximately 4.5 miles, will be undertaken next year, officials of the division's Elgin office report.

This work will be performed on existing state right-of-way with a minimum of interference to local and thru traffic.

Dolton About to Get Land Needed for Village Projects

(CNS) Dolton is closing out negotiations and court action in which the village will acquire for about $27,000 a three acre site for a fire station, water reservoir, and water-works.

The village passed an ordinance on March 25 to acquire the land. The tract is located about 100 feet northeast of the northeast corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Sibley Park boulevard in Sibley Park subdivision. The site is just south of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad tracks. The triangular shaped tract consists of 18 lots. Ten of the lots were acquired in a jury trial of the village's condemnation suit before Judge George M. Fisher in Superior Court. The jury returned a verdict that placed a total value of $11,400 on the 10 lots.

A $460,000 bond issue has been authorized to pay the cost of erecting the water works and reservoir, and a $50,000 bond issue has been authorized to pay the cost of erecting the fire station.

Industrial Sewer Project Gets Approval

(CNS) A $950,000 interceptor sewer project for the Chicago industrial area south of Lake Calumet and the northeast section of Dolton has been approved by the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

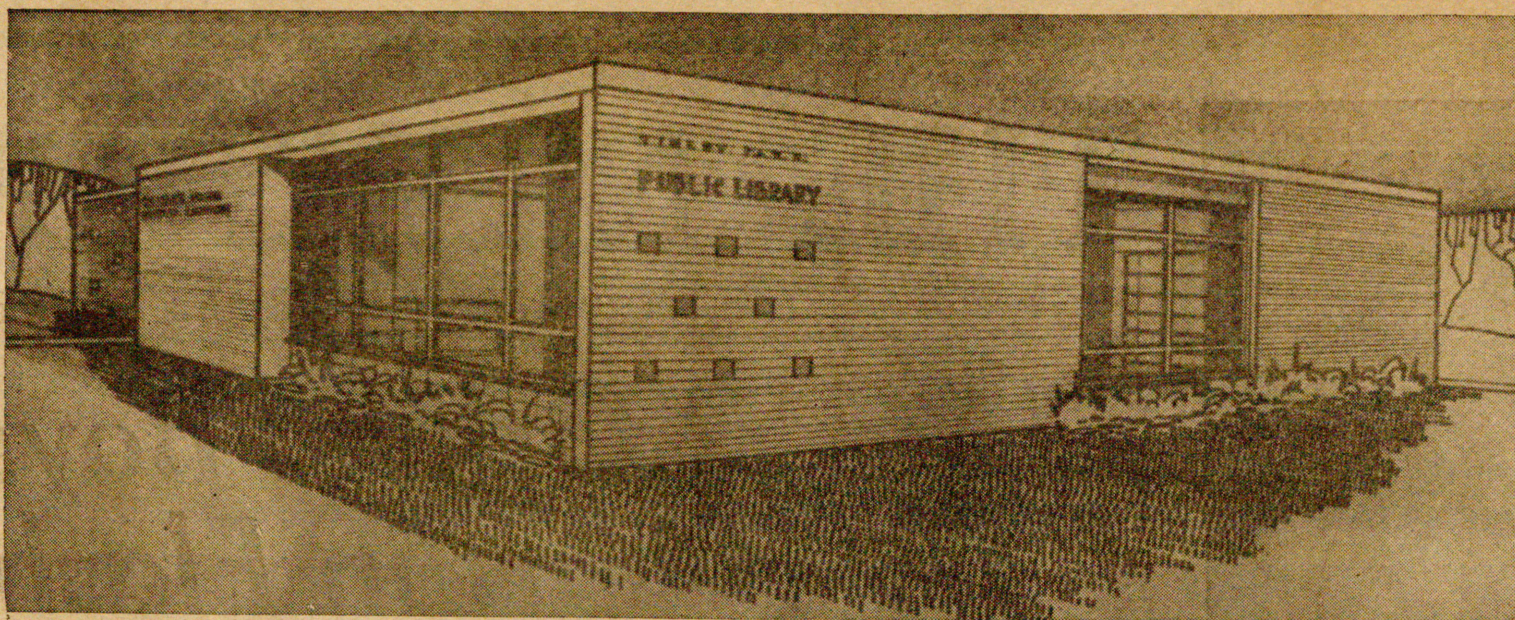

Final plans and specifications were okayed and the district now is advertising for bids on installing 7,500 feet of sanitary sewers, a distance of about 1.4 miles.

The interceptor sewer will run along the Illinois Michigan Central railroad from 130th street, west of the Calumet expressway, in Chicago to a point in Dolton on the south bank of the Little Calumet River at 140th street, about two blocks west of Stony Island avenue. It will be the first let of an interceptor sewer line that eventually will serve the extreme southeast section of Cook county.

Horace P. Ramey, chief engineer, said the East Dolton line later will be extended until it connects with a section linking East Chicago Heights and Sauk Village. A contract for the sewer line between East Chicago Heights and Sauk Village is expected to be let later this year.

A small pumping station will be constructed at East Chicago Heights.

The only big interceptor line now serving Dolton is part of the Calumet intercepting sewer system and in this section is known as the Harvey sewer, Ramey said. The northeast

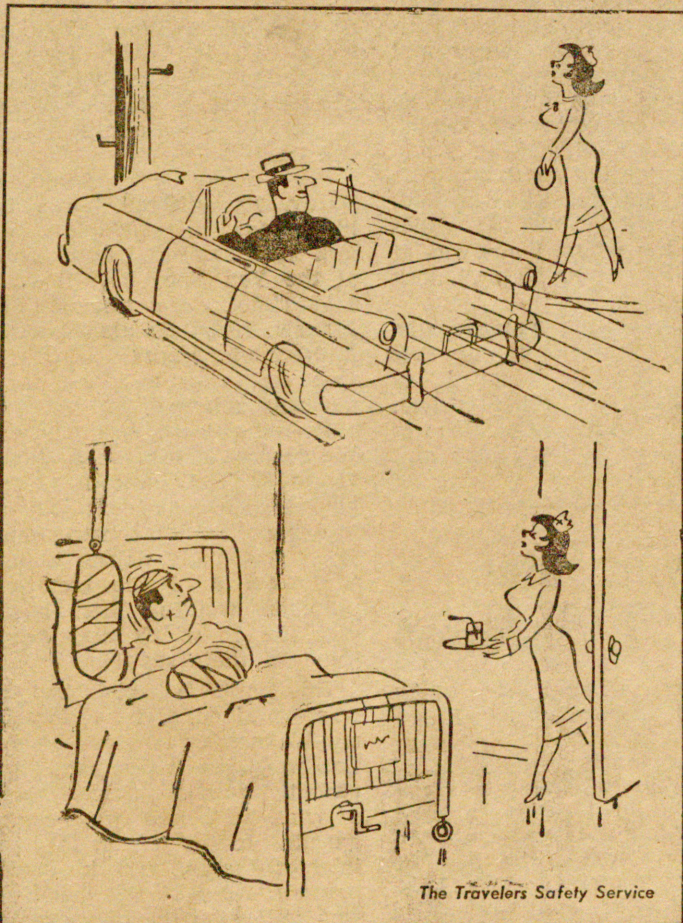

AN ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of the proposed Tinley Park Community Library building shows what the new structure will look like when completed. The building, to be erected on the corner lot of 171st st. and 69th ave., will be 37 by 40 feet and will be of cement block construction with brick veneer. The modern type building will have wood plank ceiling with radiated wood beams. A skylight and large windows will admit a maximum of light. A small workroom and two washrooms are included in the plans. It will be so constructed that future expansion will be possible.

Says Music Studio Is in Violation of Tinley Zoning Law

The Tinley Park Music Studio at 16906 Oak Park ave. is in violation of the village zoning ordinance by operating in a residential section, it was reported.

License chairman Joseph McCarthy reported at the board meeting Monday he had requested the village clerk to inform the studio that a request for a hearing could be made by them to consider rezoning the property to business.

Mokena Teens to Give Benefit Dance

A benefit dance is to be held in the VFW hall on Wolf road, Mokena, Saturday night, June 21, to aid Ronald Nelson, a Mokena youth who was severely injured while at work several months ago.

There will be refreshments and a special award made.

Tickets may be bought from any member of the Mokena Teen club, which is sponsoring the affair, or any Mokena merchant. The Teens are also making a door to door sale of tickets.

Dancing is to begin at 8 o'clock.

Trustees Vote to Buy Attachment for Road Grader

A program of street repair should be started soon in Tinley Park with the purchase of a scarifier for the road grader.

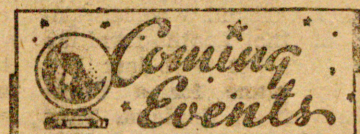

Permission to purchase this piece of equipment was given to Trustee Allen Verhage, by the board at Monday's meeting. The amount set to pay for the machinery was a maximum of $750. Plans are to purchase a used one.

Verhage was acting for Thomas Hatfield, chairman of roads, who was reported out of town.

As presented by him, certain arterial streets would be repaired first, also some in the Parkside subdivision, which section as near as is known, he stated, are equipped with all utilities, such as sewers, and would not have to be torn up when the overall sewer program begins.

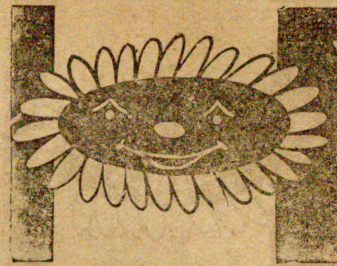

He mentioned 171st st. and others on the south section of the village as badly in need of repair.

Truly Good Neighbors

Neighborliness is a reality, not just a word in the dictionary, in some communities, especially the smaller ones.

Being helpful in times of stress or trouble Boy Scouts and their leaders from the Louis is a mark of neighborliness. The nearly 700 Joliet District who spent last week-end encamped at Mokena describe that community as a neighborly town.

The boys arrived there Friday afternoon, pitched their tents in Memorial park, put down their blankets or bedrolls and were in residence.

Friday night was a grand one, weather-wise, and Saturday, while warm, was clear until late in the day when clouds formed, and around suppertime there was a light shower, so light that it did not even settle the dust.

Came the dawn on Sunday, when the skies opened and the rain came down. And how it came! This was no drizzle-drazzle. This was a genuine, stem-winding gully-washer.

Within a short time the camping site became rivulets and the rivulets formed ponds. came a marsh. Then the marsh began to send Thunder, lightning and wind added their furies.

Minutes after the storm broke members of the Mokena volunteer fire department, the Civil Defense unit and the police force were on their way to the Scout camp. No one called them. They just came. They knew their young week-end neighbors must be in trouble so they turned out to help.

The Mokena men helped the Scouts and their leaders to pack their gear and get out. Tractors were brought in to snake out cars that couldn't get traction or refused to start because of wet ignition.

The men connected with Scouting were not only grateful but surprised. This was the first time, some of them said, that the townspeople had turned out to lend them a helping hand when they found themselves in similar need.

The men of Mokena who helped the Scouts were somewhat embarrassed by the thanks. In substance they said, "don't mention it." They would have done the same if any of their neighbors were in distress and as for visitors—

We like that kind of reasoning. why they are neighbors too.

Imagine This! Simple Things for the Kitchen

After you've spent 15 minutes trying to figure out how to operate a new "time saving" gadget, you may find these common kitchen aids listed by a University of Illinois home economist more to your liking.

Mrs. Lorena Neumann says these basic pieces of equipment, usually inexpensive, can be used in any kitchen and don't require a detailed diagram for a homemaker to learn how to use.

First things first, and in the kitchen it begins with measuring ingredients. A set of 1-4 cup, 1-3 cup, 1/2 cup and 1 cup measures are best for dry ingredients. Cups designed with a pouring lip, in 1 cup and 1 pint sizes, are ideal for measuring liquid ingredients.

Graduated measuring spoons are a must.

A flour sifter that sifts into a cup is handy.

A pastry cloth aids in making pie crust, rolls, coffee cake and other products. A flaky pie crust is made with a minimum of water, but the dough is sometimes difficult to handle. The temptation is to add too much water, and the result is a tough crust. You'll have much less trouble from

Ends Fight to Get School Site

(CNS) School District 117 in Palos township has ended a 2-year fight to acquire a tract of land near 103rd street and 88th avenue in Palos township for use as a school site.

An out of court settlement has been reached between the school district and administrators of the Rose Lucas estate to purchase seven acres of land at $2,650 an acre.

Franklin Chino, law partner of Attorney Peter G. Schultz, representing the school district, said he will ask that the district's condemnation suit to acquire the land be dismissed today before Superior Judge Donald S. McKinlay.

The school district plans to build an elementary school on the site. It plans to borrow money needed for construction from the state and pay it back in the form of rent over a 20 year period, Chino said.

sticking and cracking if you roll pie crust on a pastry cloth made of heavy canvas and rub the cloth with a small amount of flour. Pastry cloths can be bought or made at home. (Two can be made from half a yard of canvas, giving you a spare while one is being washed.)

A rolling pin covered with a child's white cotton stocking with the foot removed is another aid in rolling pastry.

Wooden spoons are necessary tools too. They're used for stirring and blending almost every kind of product—sauces, batters, scrambled eggs, candies and jellies. It's good to have several sizes.

Next come knives. Every efficient kitchen worker should have a good set of knives. It doesn't need to be a matched set, but the knives should be designed to do specific jobs. The necessary ones include a paring knife, a butcher knife or utility knife for cutting meat and possibly a bread knife with a serrated edge and a French cook's knife in 7 or 8 inch size for chopping vegetables. High-grade steel makes the best knives. Untreated steel holds a keener edge, but stainless steel is easier to care for.

Plan Open House for Couple Wed 50 Years

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Uthe of Orland Park will honor them with an open house this Sunday in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

This affair will be held in their home at 143rd st. and 80th ave., Orland Park, from 3 to 8 p.m. All friends and relatives are invited.

Tinley Honors Veteran Firemen

Two members of the Tinley Park fire department, one posthumously, received recognition Monday night, when Elmer Knudsen, village president, presented certificates of merit to Robert Funk for his father, the recently deceased John Funk, and Edmund Moss who recently retired as fire chief.

Mr. Funk, who died at the age of 80, was a member of the fire department from 1902 until his death a few weeks ago, serving the department as secretary and treasurer.

In accepting the plaque in memory of his father, Robert Funk stated that his father loved two things—people and Tinley Park.

Ed Moss has not retired from the fire department which he served as chief for nine years. For distinctive service to the village, he was presented with a plaque and a clock which always will serve as a pleasant reminder of his days as fireman. On the top of the clock there is a statuette of a fire chief and on each side statuette of firemen.

The presentations were made in the name of the people of Tinley Park.

Must Have Permit to Store Parts of Old Airplanes

(CNS) Arthur Bancor has stored and dismantled airplanes, parts, and other miscellaneous equipment without a permit in a residential zone at 5725 West 83rd street, Stickney township. State's Attorney Adamowski has charged in a complaint filed in county court. The complaint alleged Bancor failed to obtain a permit from the county building and zoning bureau. A summons was issued for Bancor to answer the charge in court on June 26.

Thanks Officials for Not Issuing Liquor License

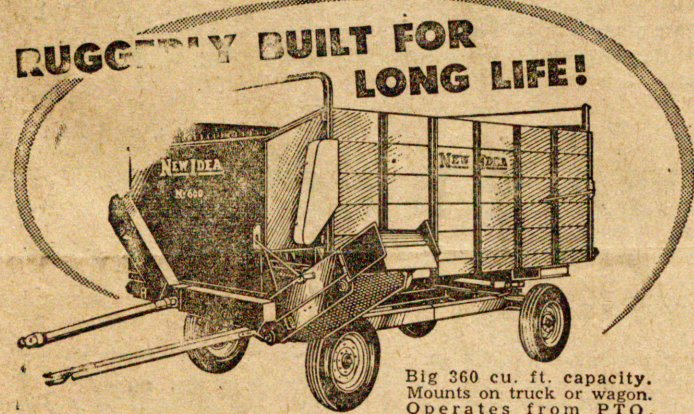

A letter from the Rev. A.D. Corder, pastor of the First Baptist church in Tinley Park was read at the village board meeting Monday.

trustees for what he termed a "wise decision" in not issuing another liquor license in the village.

He praised the type of leadership set by the village officials.

He was referring to a recent request for a liquor license which was not granted.

After six or seven weeks in the brooders the young birds will be placed in open to release pens out in the country.

Traffic Fines for May in Tinley Park Amount to $285

Fines amounting to a total of $285 were collected by Tinley Park Police Magistrate Joseph Lucas, during the month of May for speeding and other traffic violations.

Seek "Break" From Motorists

The Mokena and Orland Park volunteer fire departments have complaints to make. Too many motorists refuse to pull off to the side of the road to allow fire apparatus and the cars of the firemen to pass. Firemen also ask people not to follow the fire trucks. Some crowd in so that at times firemen have to park at a distance from the scene of a blaze and complete the journey on foot. This could cause a delay, it was pointed out, that would result in severe losses to the property owners.

SOCIALISM CREEPS ON

"A change in political administration has not made much headway against the assault on privately-owned power and light companies nor socialized medicine, to name two areas. Either one, if we are to accept the socialistic trend, would jeopardize other facets of the American way and require more controls rather than fewer controls."

—Burlingame, Kans., Enterprise-Chronicler

"The people of Hagerstown have again proven their deep, long standing interest in world brotherhood by opening their homes to 30 foreign visitors within the past week.

"Even the more skeptical among us are coming around to the realization that, in the long haul, world peace depends on mutual understanding among people of all nations." —Hagerstown, Md., Morning Herald

Tinley Tigers Win Opening Game 5-2

Ron Bressi Holds Oaks to 2 Hits; Will Take on Colts This Sunday

The Tinley Park Tigers are off to a winning start in Southwest Cook County Police League play, having downed Oak Forest 5 to 2 in a game played last Sunday at Tinley.

Ron Bressi, who went the route on the mound for the victors, allowed but two hits and put the game on ice in the seventh and final inning when he lashed a clean single to score Harold "Satchel" Coley.

Lou Kent pitched good ball for the Oaks, giving up but six hits, but had no excuses. Tinley got one unearned run in the sixth when Terry Schroeder galloped to first on a dropped third strike and proceeded to ramble on 'round the bases on misplays by the Oaks.

While the Tigers did not break any records in the hit department they put those they had together so they counted most.

Both teams each scored a run in each of the first two until the sixth the pitchers innings and from the third hurled a shutout ball with the score standing at 2-all.

How the Tigers broke the tie in the sixth has been told. In the seventh frame Tinley pushed two more runs over to make the final count 5 to 2. Jim Miller's shot thru short was good for two bases and he went to third on a sacrifice bunt by Bruce Rodger. Coley got his first hit of the game and scored on a long single by Pitcher Bressi.

Bressi Miller's two-bagger the only other extra base knock of the game was Dick Klepper's triple in the second inning. Klepper cantered in a few moments later on a single by Miller.

This Sunday the Tigers will be host to the Markham Colts. The game will be played on the Memorial Park diamond. Game time is 2 o'clock and the contest is expected to draw a large crowd.

Frankfort Small Fry Tap Mokena 9-3

The Small Fry team made up of talent from Frankfort and Lincoln Estates dusted off the Mokena entry in the Trico league Monday night 9 to 3. The game was played at Mokena. The Frankfort outfit is scheduled to play Manhattan at Manhattan Thursday evening.

Over 700 research projects ranging from high-energy boron fuel to technical intelligence systems, were conducted by Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago.

Here's Switch the Little One Got Away

Bill Donohue and 18 lb. Northern

Here's a switch for you. The big one was landed; the little one got away.

William Donohue, of Laguna Woods in Orland township, has returned from a fishing trip along the Minnesota-Canadian border with a story that should serve him well, anytime and any place anglers get together.

He was with his father, William Sr., of Chicago, and Clarence Kekas, of Roseland. On the day this tale was born the Walleyes were biting fast and furious. Bill, Jr. was working overtime handling the landing net for Bill Senior's catch. As his father reeled in a fish Bill had the net in the water and brought it up around the critter so no time was lost. Donohue Sr. hooked another walleye, one of those little ones you know, say maybe three-four pounds give or take a few ounces. Bill had the landing net ready and then he saw a huge northern pike coming fast, with mouth open to take the walleye. As a matter of fact he looked big enough to take the net.

The northern was so close that when Bill came up with the net he had both fish. He was swinging the load into the boat when the net handle snapped and net and fish flopped into the water.

Quick as quick Bill drove his arms into the icy water, well above his elbows, and succeeded in grasping the sides of the net and hauling it aboard. The big northern—it weighed 18 pounds—was caught in the net and was landed (see picture above) but—the little old walleye got away.

Boxing Exhibition and Prayer Mark Tinley Pre-Game Ceremonies

After having been rained out on two previous week-ends the Southwest division of the Cook County Police Baseball league finally got the show on the road last Sunday.

The two teams at Robbins hand managed to get in a game a couple of weeks ago but they were the only ones. The rest of the teams saw action for the first time Sunday.

Tinley Park got away to a nice start by taking Oak Forest after pre-game ceremonies run off at Memorial Park diamond.

Albert Noble, coach of the Tigers and a former amateur fighter, stepped a mast round with Ron Bressi in an exhibition go with the big gloves. That Bressi might have something in common with the late Rube Waddell is attested by the fact that after this work-out as a boxer he went to the mound for the Tigers and had the Oak Forests handcuffed.

Someone gave Bressi the decision in the fistcuffs so he is the uncrowned heavyweight champ of Tinley as well as its winning pitcher.

A brief prayer was then given by Father Thomas D.

O'Connell, pastor of St. George church. This Sunday the Rev. Kenneth Crandall, pastor of the Tinley Park Methodist church, will give a prayer prior to the game.

When the umpire said "Play ball!" Mayor Elmer Knudsen tossed the first ball—which, believe it or not, had enough speed to reach the pitcher without a bounce.

ONLY A PAPER MOON

"Paper-money inflation continues to penalize the pocket-books of hundreds of millions of Americans. The question is being asked if it pays to save. The paper-dollar is now only worth about 50 cents in terms of what it would buy in 1940. Those who are hurt by inflation include over 100 million holders of life insurance policies, holders of savings deposits, owners of U. S. Savings Bonds, securities of all kinds and holders of pension."

Handicapped Children to Benefit from Golf Contests June 21-24

Golfers at eight south suburban courses will test their marksmanship and at the same time help handicapped children of the area on "Golf Circle Days," Saturday and Sunday, June 21 and 22.

The benefit event, sponsored by the Council for Handicapped Children, will take place at the following courses:

Olympia Fields, Lincolnshire, and Chicago Heights Country Clubs, and Cherry Hills, Shady Lawn, and Longwood, public links. On behalf of Cog Hill and Glenwood courses, Manager, Joes Jemsek is donating $100. Marty Walsh of Hickory Hills is donating $25.

When golfers step to the tee of one designated hole, on each participating course, they will see a white circle on the green, surrounding the hole.

By making a donation to the handicapped children's fund, the golfer will get a chance to win a new golf ball with his accuracy. The objective is to hit the tee shot inside the circle.

All proceeds from "Golf Circle Days" will finance scholarships to train teachers for special education programs which are still needed in the area for handicapped children. It is the Council's only funds-raising event.

Inviting golfers to take part and dispensing prizes to the sharpshooters will be women members of these groups:

Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, Chicago Heights; Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary, Homewood; Alpha Chi Omega Sorority, Park Forest; Park Forest Drummers Ltd. auxiliary; South Suburban Council for Mentally Retarded Children; Ladies' Club, Chicago Heights Country club; and Homewood-Flossmoor Chapter, Brain Research Foundation.

Members of the Men's club of Temple Anshe Shalom, Chicago Heights will handle the equipment and supply arrangements at the courses.

Golfers' donations last summer helped make possible two new special education programs which will open in District 17C, Chicago Heights next September—one for blind children and one for educable mentally handicapped. The Council set up scholarships for two teachers.

Final arrangements for the "Golf Circle Days" were discussed June 13 at the Council.

Harkey Due to Race Saturday at Joliet Oval

Threatening weather the last two week-ends has kept Bob Harkey close to home in Charlotte, S. C., but the 1957 NASCAR champion is expected to return to the midget auto races Saturday night at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

When weather permits, Harkey flies into Joliet for the weekly racing program.

One of the "hottest" drivers in the past week or two, Joliet's Bernie Wilhelm is expected to stir up trouble for the leaders Saturday night. Wilhelm placed in all three races last week-end, finishing third in his heat race second in the feature and winning the handicap race for the six fastest qualifying cars.

Meanwhile, Dom Dellegrazie of Evanston, Johnny Meyers of Chicago and Willie Wildhaber of Lexington, all will be vying to see who will become the first two-time feature winner. Each has a main event victory to his credit thus far.

Among those trying to stop them will be Don Chapman of Aurora, Paul Kerber of Elgin, George Sillery and Bud Abraham, both of Chicago, and Ray Elliott and Newt White, both of Lockport.

Saturday's program will include four heat races, a handicap, 15 lap semifinals and 25 lap feature. Time trials start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m.

Little Leaguers of Tinley Park to Sell Decals

The annual Little League decal sale will be held in Tinley Park Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of this week. The officers of the league are seeking a goal of $500.

The money raised will be used to buy 15 uniforms to outfit the extra team added to the minor league this year and also to purchase baseball equipment.

The league has not solicited donations from business houses for the baseball program as in previous years. For this reason, the sale of decals to support it is needed more this year than ever before.

When the Little Leaguers call on you selling the decals which can be placed on car windows to show you are a booster, helping to keep him occupied on the ball diamond and not on a street corner, by purchasing one.

Gas Co. Head Dubious of New Supply for 1958

Marvin Chandler, president of Northern Illinois Gas Company, told stockholders today (June 10) at the utility's annual meeting in Aurora that prospects for additional pipeline gas this year are "none to promising."

His remarks followed the business session during which Edward D. Sheehan, the gas company's vice president in charge of operations, was chosen as an additional director. Sheehan's election increases the number of directors to ten.

In his talk Chandler reviewed the gas supply problem which the utility faces and analyzed four possible additional increments of gas in this manner:

(1) Fifty million cubic feet of gas daily from Midwestern Gas Transmission Company is not expected until late in 1959 due to recent denial by Federal Power Commission of a temporary certificate.

(2) Fifty million cubic feet of gas daily from Northern Natural Gas Company still awaits FPC and Illinois Commerce Commission action, but could be completed by the end of this year if approved by August 1.

(3) Applications for temporary certificates by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America and Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Company, which would furnish NI-Gas with about 66 million cubic feet of gas daily, also await FPC decisions. Delivery of this gas by the end of this year is doubtful even if approvals are received shortly.

(4) An additional 127 million cubic feet of gas daily thru the original Natural Gas Pipeline-Colorado Interstate project is still bogged down in rate, financial and regulatory complications.

While Chandler was not optimistic about receiving additional gas in time for the 1958-59 heating season, he looked toward all of these four possibilities materializing perhaps by the end of 1959. There now are about 130,000 single family dwellings awaiting gas space heat.

Chandler stressed that underground storage of large quantities of gas during the summer for use in the winter seemed to be the best long range solution to the supply problem.

First Picture of Cinemiracle Series Opens Tomorrow

The first picture of its kind in the Cinemiracle series, and named "Windjammer" will be shown in the Chicago Civic Opera house starting June 20. It can only be shown in the opera house at Chicago; Graumann's Chinese theatre in Los Angeles, the Roxy, New York, and theatres at Oslo, Norway and London, England because of its physical and technical complexities.

The motion picture is another of Louis De Rochemont's spectacular productions and is based on a narrative by Capt. Alan Villiers and James L. Shute. The film details the modern "real life" adventures of a group of Norwegian cadets on the SS Christian Radich, one of the last three-masted square riggers still afloat, dramatizing their development from landmen into seamen and from boys into men as the windjammer follows Christopher Columbus' route along Spanish Main.

The brave stand of 42 young Norwegian boys fighting for their lives thru a 14 day storm at sea—is but one of the many exciting scenes awaiting those attending this Cinemiracle.

Evening performances begin at 8:30 p.m., Monday thru Saturday, and 7:15 p.m. on Sundays. Special matinees are also scheduled, starting at 2 p.m. on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. Rixon Russell (Robert Porter photo)

Wed June 7 in Methodist Church

Miss Evelyn Brandau became the bride of Rixon Russell of North Riverside at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 7, in the Tinley Park Methodist church. The Rev. Kenneth Crandall officiated at the double ring ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Brandau and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore Russell of Jamaica, British West Indies.

Appropriate selections were played by organist, Miss Alice Ginter, as the guests assembled. The soloist, Mrs. Raymond Jensen, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love Thee."

The church was decorated with white gladioli and white mums and a twin candelabra with lighted candles was on the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle, accented by tiny pearls and sequins. The full skirt with its chapel sweep was broken by rows of lace. A simple lace cap bordered with sequins provided the anchor for a three-tiered veil of French silk illusion. She carried white orchids and staphanotis.

Miss Lucille Brandau, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Miss Evelyn Taylor of Claradon Hills was bridesmaid. Their waltz length gowns of white nylon organza over blue were full skirted with sabrina necklines. Their picture hats were of blue to match the gowns, and the dainty baskets of blue carnations and yellow daisies which they carried completed their ensemble.

Attending the groom was Walter Marston of Hoffman Estates as best man with Henry Zych of Harvey and Harry Reeves of Hinsdale as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brandau chose a blue lace sheath gown with jacket and hat to match. Her corsage was a white orchid and rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social hall.

The bridal table was centered with a miniature bride and groom centerpiece with a huge arch of orange blossoms as a backdrop.

About 150 guests enjoyed the delicious and artfully arranged buffet.

Miss Joane Yepsen presided at the punch-bowl, with Mrs. Dean Pettit assisting the guests to register in the bridal book.

The beautiful three-tiered bridal cake was served by Miss Phyllis Meyer, cousin of the bride.

The newlyweds are spending several days at Turkey Run Resort, Ind., before leaving for California where they will make their home. Mrs. Russell was a teacher at the Bert Fulton school in Tinley Park. The groom is an accountant.

Cook County Home Bureau Holds Play Day at Blue Island

Four members of the Bremen Home Bureau enjoyed a day visiting and lunching with other members of the Cook County Home Bureau recently. The day's festivities were held at St. Paul's church, Blue Island.

Participating were Home Bureau units of southern Cook county. Each unit portrayed their gain of knowledge and pleasure with booths.

Bremen's booth was prepared by Adele Benck and Virginia Seidel.

All enjoyed a potluck luncheon, followed by a talk on safety on the highway by a representative of the Illinois State police.

The next stated meeting of Bremen Home Bureau will be June 26 at the home of Mrs. Wallace Mohr. The lesson to be delivered by Jean Anast and Juanita Sterkowitz will be "How to restyle last year's dress."

Michael's church, will be on hand at 9 o'clock sharp to offer a wealth of gifts collected from all parts of the world. Unopened parcel post packages from all parts of the country will also be offered. Proceeds from the "fair" will go to St. Michael's parochial school. Mrs. James Cahill is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

The class is open to both beginners and advanced of all ages (over 12), male and female. Students may paint in water colors, oils or pastels, or make sketches for future drawings. Mrs. Marvin Kutinski of Palos Heights instructs this class.

The children's ceramic class begins the same week, on Wednesday, June 25, and will be from 10:00 to 11:30. Children from the ages of six to twelve are accepted. They may register for a six-week or an eight-week period. Mrs. Howard R. Fish of Orland Park is the instructor.

St. Michael's Guild at Orland to Hold "Country Fair" Sunday

After weeks and weeks of planning St. Michael Guild's third annual "Country Fair" will be held this Sunday, June 22 in St. Michael's auditorium, Highland ave., Orland Park. The affair will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 10 o'clock that night.

"Around the World" is the theme adopted for this year's fair. Before beginning a trip, one may leave the small fry in the Enchanted Cottage with the Fairy Godmother and she will keep them entertained with stories and movies. Entertainment is planned for the older children, too.

First stop on the "tour" is at the Polish-Bohemian market place where proprietors Mrs. George Jedlicka and Mrs. Edwin Rosowicz will cater to one's needs; then along the great circle route to the North Pole where Mrs. Lee Holcombe will have visitors Christmas shopping in June. Then one moves over the Arctic ocean, across Siberia and into the Orient where Mrs. Raymond Barry will offer treasures from Japan, China and Hawaii.

Stop for a moment at the "United Nation" booth of Mrs. James Jankun and Mrs. Gus Knez for home made candies, baked goods, jams, and jellies. A pilgrimage now across India, Arabia, and into the "Holy Land" booth of Mrs. Roy Perlowski where one will find a large selection of religious articles.

Time now for supper so stop at the "Isle of Capri" booth of Mrs. Len Heinen and Mrs. Dale Bryant for their specialties of Italian beef and sausage. And it was pointed out that a trip to "Italy" is incomplete unless one views Mrs. George Paetow's array of native wares.

Across the border now to France to meet Mrs. Francis Beck in the Flea Market of Paris and then across the border to the booth of Mrs. Joseph Daluga for her German, Swiss and Scandinavian imports. Now one flies across the channel to the "English Isles" booth of Mrs. John McCann and Mrs. Goodall Twining for Irish linens and other treasures.

Mrs. Bernard Keiran, Mrs. Russell Malloy and Mrs. Harold Reger will be on hand to welcome travelers back home and to help "Bring home the Bacon."

No "Country Fair" is complete without an auction—so, to round out the day, the Rev. Frank Coyle, pastor of St.

The Christian Women's Fellowship meets tonight at 8 o'clock in the Homeowners Association house to elect officers for the coming year.

Tomorrow noon the pastors wife, Mrs. Wendell Pew, will be hostess at a luncheon in the parsonage for members of the executive committee at their meeting with Rollin Mosher, architect for the board of extension of the Christian church.

Plans are to be discussed for a church to be located on the plot recently purchased by the Christian Disciples Union from the J. E. Merriam Co.

The committee will meet with Mr. Mosher again tomorrow night at 8:30, this time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wedderspoon, 4551 W. 179th street.

The vacation church school will wind up its program with a picnic lunch. A program to include all vacation church school pupils is planned in conjunction with the 11 o'clock service Sunday. Parents and friends are invited to see the display of the youngsters' endeavors in handicraft and to hear them sing.

The Rev. Mr. Pew will leave Monday for Bloomington to attend a retreat for Christian ministers to be held Monday and Tuesday.

Ingalls Hospital Expansion Project is Half Complete

Ins. Ingalls hospital 1-14 A little over $1,240,000 has been paid on the nearly three million dollar construction of new facilities at Ingalls Memorial hospital in Harvey. Construction is now 50 percent completed and a balance of some $1,650,000 must still be paid on the basic project.

At this time the hospital has on hand in the building fund or committed in pledges and other sources $1,080,000 so about $580,000 is needed to complete the new construction program and basic furnishings of the hospital.

The expansion program will double the size and facilities of the hospital. When the project is completed Ingalls Memorial will have 238 beds and 50 bassinets, as well as adequate service facilities for this size institution. The estimated cost of the construction, furniture, fixtures and equipment is $2,900,000.

"... if we are to 'earn our spurs' as a community in a system based on free enterprise and private industry, then it's time we stopped leaning on the federal budget for our prosperity and ventured forth into a competitive market of commerce and industry as a basis for permanent security."

AVOID PANIC
Can you avoid panic if your home catches fire at night? The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company lists the following life or death procedures, to be followed in order: 1. Before opening the bedroom door, feel panels to see if hot. 2. If safe to open doors, get family out of the house at once. 3. If hallway cannot be entered, use window as exit; by means of rope ladder, or makeshift knotted bedsheets, when window is well above ground. 4. Make every second count. Call fire department. Give your address slowly, clearly. 5. Post someone at fire box or at street to direct the fire department.

POWER MARCHES ON—This is a segment of the new 345,000-volt line placed in service recently between Commonwealth Edison and American Electric Power systems and follows a countryside route from Goodings Grove, near Orland Park, to New Carlisle, Ind. This section of the 90-mile interconnection shows several spans of the line's six aluminum conductors stretching between towers 145 feet high. There are 498 of these towers, built of steel. The line enables the two utility systems to assist each other in emergencies and to operate more economically with less generating reserve.

Builder Sues in Row Over Hickory Hills Annexation Mess

(CNS)—The first case has come to light of a construction company stung by the legal warfare over "crazy-quilt" road annexations by villages.

Lansdowne Construction company has a fist-full of "now-worthless" building permits issued by Hickory Hills, plus a total investment of $287,500 tied up in land and 17 unfinished homes and nowhere to turn, except the courts.

The homes were started after the land was annexed by Hickory Hills in June, 1957, along with roads leading to the property. But last March, Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher held the annexations illegal because they weren't contiguous to the village. The land automatically became unincorporated area again under county building and zoning jurisdiction. The property is classified as a farming district under county zoning.

Because the company failed to obtain county building permits, William J. Mortimer, county building and zoning officer dispatched a stop-work order. It caught the builder with the homes about 85 per cent complete.

After several conferences with officials in various county departments, the Lansdowne company complained in a suit filed in Superior court that it's been able to obtain neither county building permits nor necessary rezoning. The firm seeks a writ of mandamus commanding Mortimer to issue building permits for the 17 homes under construction on part of 38 acres on 81st court and 82nd avenue, south of 103rd street, in Palos township.

The suit said Mortimer would allow work to proceed if the builder obtained rezoning. The company has tried that but Walter Popjoy, zoning board secretary won't accept the rezoning application, the suit said.

Popjoy refused the application for R-4 residential district (minimum lot size 10,000 square feet) because the County Board in September, 1955, passed an order that no more septic tanks are to be allowed on lots of less than 20,000 square feet in land area, the suit said.

The Lansdowne company's lots with the 17 homes contain at least 10,000 square feet, according to the suit.

A reception will follow the installation ceremonies in the ballroom on the second floor of the temple. Frances Wood will play selections on the organ during the reception.

Blood Bank Plan Will be Set Up by Moose Lodges

More than 1000 Moose members in the First District are participating in a blood donation plan whereby a blood bank will be established to serve members and their families. Of this number, over 300 are members of Harvey lodge 1203 and Harvey chapter 811. There are 22 lodges and chapters in District 1, participating in the plan.

Members who sign up for the blood plan during the charter period, between May 1 and July 31, 1958, and are over 60 years of age, will not have to give blood, but will be eligible to receive it if need arises.

The Moose insurance blood bank plan also covers children and their mothers at Mooseheart and the aged men and women at Moosehaven.

The Harvey Moose carnival is being held on the 14 acres of the new Moose home until June 22.

Cerebral Palsy Children's Camp Opens June 29

Shady Oaks Camp for Cerebral Palsy children near Lockport, will open its 1958 season June 29 and will continue for eight weeks.

With the completion of Ford Hall, the new building enables the camp to accommodate more cerebral palsy children thru a grant from the Ford Foundation. The building will be dedicated June 29, as a highlight of the open house program.

The staff at Shady Oaks will assemble June 25 for a three day pre-camp session. Numerous authorities and leaders in the field of cerebral palsy and camping for the handicapped child will address the staff at these sessions.

"Save the Dunes" Petitions Being Circulated

Spearheaded by Illinois Sen. Paul Douglas, who will introduce a bill to Congress to have the Indiana Dunes acquired as a national park, the "Save the Dunes Council" is circulating petitions to be presented to Congress in favor of the bill.

The action was taken because Bethlehem Steel corporation, which owns much of the land between Ogden Dunes and Dunes acres, is contemplating erecting a steel mill there.

Anyone interested in preserving the Dunes area for a recreational national park, may sign petitions being circulated by the Save the Dunes Council. This may be done by contacting Mrs. Edward Balk, 16448 Oak Park ave., Tinley Park, from who petitions may be obtained.

★ Jim Conway, WBBM-TV's Television Star of "In Town Tonight", meets Mrs. Harper Richards of Chicago, Illinois

"Our kitchen stays so much cleaner..."
and really, nothing looks as modern as an electric range!"

says Mrs. Richards

Modern automatic electric ranges mean less time wasted on kitchen drudgery. Mrs. Richards, partner in Harper Richards Associates, devotes much of the time and energy she saves to Interior Designing.

JIM CONWAY: I imagine a modern kitchen is important to the woman of the house. But do you run into this trend to electric cooking often in your work as an interior designer?

MRS. RICHARDS: Yes I do, Jim. And I have noticed a decided increase in the number of women who want not only an electric range... but an all-electric kitchen. Of course, it seems to me a modern electric range is really the first step toward modern electric living.

JIM CONWAY: Well, what do you consider to be the big advantages of electric cooking?

MRS. RICHARDS: My own experience tells me electric cooking is much cleaner. And cooler, too. Our oven doesn't heat up the kitchen. There are also many automatic features with the modern electric range that give a woman greater versatility as a cook. She can roast, broil, boil, deep-fat fry, grill, bake and barbecue—all automatically.

JIM CONWAY: And very economically. As you probably know, the average-size family can cook electrically for about 7¢ a day.

MRS. RICHARDS: Yes, and the woman of the house will spend a good deal less time in the kitchen in the bargain, Jim.

Every day, more modern women cook the modern electric way

While her recently broken arm is healing satisfactorily, Carol Olander, of 16450 Beverly, wishes to caution other youngsters against the dangers of playing in and around new construction, which is where her mishap occurred.

Gary Koleczek, 16531 Ridgeland, who celebrated his sixth birthday June 7, was so happy to have passed that important milestone, as at last he is old enough to go to school. Long may such enthusiasm last!

Among the 110 guests attending the dinner and reception held at Neilson's Restaurant in Chicago, celebrating the 25th wedding anniversary of the William Sawyers, of 16440 Beverly, were Mrs. Sawyers' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Tomovic of St. Cloud, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peleck of Wauconda, Ill., the Bodenstabs of McHenry, and the George Krizeks, of Mt. Prospect. Bill Sawyer, 22 year old son of the couple, was a very entertaining master of ceremonies, and a good orchestra provided an evening of dancing enjoyed by all.

I have recently learned that two members of our community belong to the Toastmasters Club (possibly others). Ivo Marsmann has been in Toastmasters for several years, and Carter LeBeau belongs to a very new chapter in Tinley Park. This very interesting organization is international and has the following purposes: 1) to build personality 2) to improve speaking ability and 3) to develop latent capacities for leadership and service.

The club that Ivo Marsmann belongs to is restricted to United Air Lines membership, but the Tinley Park Toastmasters is open to area residents. Carter LeBeau informed me that guests are always welcome at their meetings. Their next meeting will be held at the Methodist church in Tinley Park at 8:00 p.m. on July 14.

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR:
William J. Dunne, of 6210 Jody Lane, is employed at the Pennsylvania railroad, where he has worked for the past seventeen years, except for the three years he served in the Army Air Force.

Bill and Grace moved to Kimberly Heights from Evergreen Park with Patricia, Jacqueline, and Nancy Jo, in October of 1956, and since have added another daughter, Kathleen, now 5 months old, to the family.

Pat, 15, is a member of Order of the Rainbow for Girls, Loyal Assembly No. 5. She is in her sophomore year at Bremen High school, and her hobbies are stamp collecting and records.

Jacqueline, 11, is in the 7th grade at Arbor Park, and belongs to Girl Scout troop No. 587, which she really enjoys, thanks to Mrs. R. P. Klecka and Mrs. D. J. Petersen, the leaders. Her hobbies are her dolls and collecting stamps. She also has one of the kittens the Girl Scouts received and has named him Tiger.

Bill likes to play golf and enjoys all other sports also. Grace favors bridge and bowling, but just now her chief interest is in Nancy Jo, 22 months, and Baby Kathleen, who are, of course, still in the play pen stage. Swimming and summer picnics are enjoyed by all the family.

and severe punishment for anyone the top of the building. The infraction of the rules—mostly physical.

The food was inadequate, poorly prepared and in many instances was unfit for human consumption. The prison paid for its upkeep thru the sale of products, on the open market, from a coöperage, a hemp factory and wagon and blacksmith shops.

When the prison was built at Joliet it was looked upon as a modern institution. The cells were still only four feet wide and seven feet high but they were seven feet long instead of six.

The only light came from carbide lamps on the inner walls of the cell house and thru heavily barred windows, 16 inches wide and 10 feet tall, in the outside walls. Sanitation facilities of a primitive kind served the institution until 1947 when work on remodeling the West cell house under the direction of Warden Joseph E. Ragen was completed. Money for this work was made available by the legislature in 1945 on the appeal of the governor.

The East cell house was remodeled in 1950-51. Today the windows in these cell houses are eight feet wide and reach from the ground to the top of the building. The cells are larger, lighter and have tile walls. Each has its own toilet.

One of the old cells was removed as a section and has been erected near the isolation building that visitors may have a glimpse of the past.

The "screens" as a set of punishment cells in one of the old buildings were done away with years ago, as was the practice of cuffing a man to the door of his cell in solitary for hours at a time or tying him to the door so that he was compelled to stand on tiptoe. Some of the practices were still in use in the late '20's. Also gone is the heavy iron ball shackled to a prisoner's leg nor are striped suits worn any more. They have become cartoon items now.

The old prison was built originally to accommodate 900 prisoners, one to a cell. But overcrowding made it necessary to double them up and there was a time when the population there reached the 1,800 warrants them assignment to the dormitories on the honor farm.

Because of the growth of the state and the increase in crime the legislature appropriated money in 1912 to purchase a site for a new prison.

The state then acquired 2,200 acres along what is now known as Alternate U. S. 66, five miles north of Joliet. Construction of the prison now known as Stateville was begun in 1916, but it was not until the early '20's that the institution really began to take shape.

It was then that Joliet newspapers and prison employees began referring to Stateville as the new prison and the one just north of Joliet as the old prison—names that still cling to the institutions.

The walls at Stateville enclose 64 acres, leaving approximately 2,000 acres of land that is devoted to farming. It is productive land and besides supplying food for the penitentiary it also provides employment to the prisoners whose conduct there reached the 1,800 warrants them assignment to the dormitories on the honor farm.

The prison system now known as the Illinois State Penitentiary was re-organized in 1933. In that same year the legislature passed a law requiring that all convicted persons be examined mentally, physically and socially to determine the proper institution for their imprisonment.

The primary purpose of this law was to operate first offenders from hardened criminals and repeaters, with rehabilitation the ultimate result. With this in mind, on July 1, 1933, a diagnostic depot or receiving station was established in what was formerly the women's prison at Joliet. All prisoners convicted in the northern section of Illinois pass thru this center, repeaters as well as new offenders. Since the prison was established at Joliet approximately 96,000 men have been incarcerated there and at Stateville. The present count is about 4,600.

Warden Ragen came to the prison as warden in 1935 and except for a brief interlude following a change of state administration, he has been there since.

Warden Ragen is acknowledged as one of the most able prison administrators in the world. He has been called in for consultation by governors of numerous states who have encountered difficulty in prison management and legislators in this country and prison officials from various foreign countries have come to Stateville to seek his advice and to see the results of his work at first hand.

Illinois soils originated from wind-blown silts, glacial deposits and deposits from floods in river bottoms. The best soils developed under native grass cover that produced a deep layer of organic matter. On areas covered by forests, only a shallow layer of organic matter developed.

Joliet Prison Is Century Old and Looks Older on the Outside

Joliet branch of the Illinois State Penitentiary has marked its 100th anniversary without, of course, any festivities. Most communities hold a homecoming in conjunction with such an anniversary but not at the Old Prison.

Early settlers of the place are all dead and those who followed have no desire to return once they are quit of it. Many do come back, of course, but only by compulsion and on a proper mittimus.

Certainly early residents would not recognize the place now—from the inside. The exterior is the same, as far as the walls and the administration building are concerned. And some of the ancient buildings within the walls are still in use, including the solitary now called isolation. This isolation building with its small enclosed yard, incidentally, served as the first prison here.

It was built by civilian workmen in the early 1850's and contained 20 cells. One May 22, 1858 fifty-three inmates were moved into the place, from the Alton penitentiary. Illinois' first prison was built on the banks of the Mississippi at Alton in 1833 and on Aug. 29 of that year one William Hess had the dubious distinction of being sentenced to serve three years at hard labor for the crime of burglary and thus became the penitentiary's first inmate.

There were 88 cells in the Alton prison—built on the scanty side. They were four feet in width, six feet long and seven feet high scarcely large enough for the convicts to curse the cold in—and it was cold in the winter. It was not unusual in the wintertime, old records show, to find the cell walls and walls of other buildings coated in ice. Ventilation and sanitation were at a premium and in rainy seasons one could become mired in the kitchen and dining room because they lacked flooring.

Illness was common and the death rate high. In the year 1851-52 38 inmates died, 19 from cholera, while diarrhea and tuberculosis accounted for the remainder. No burial services were conducted nor were coffins used. The bodies were taken from the cells and dumped in a hole in the ground.

These pages from the past are in sharp contrast to present conditions. While prison life is confining, the records at Stateville and Joliet show it to be a healthy one and the death rate is amazingly low. The prisons are thoroughly modern and have hospitals for the inmates and a staff of doctors is maintained. The prison also maintains two cemeteries for the repose of those whose bodies are unclaimed by relatives or friends.

In the early days convicts were looked up as beasts rather than human beings and in the opinion of state officials proper treatment for them was hard work, no visitors, no contacts with the outside world

Letter to the Editor

Editor:

The Mokena Boy Scout Troop 40 organization in particular and most of Mokena citizenry in general, is due high commendation for the fine manner of handling the Louis Joliet District Camporee June 6, 7 and 8. One of the finest campouts ever held no doubt; certainly the best in the writer's experience. Thru no one's fault the final day's activity was a bust, due to rain, but the overall event was superb.

The cooperation of citizens of Mokena in helping cars and trucks out of the campsite and parking areas showed the spirit that prevails in Scouting.

The veteran's offer of their hall, which was accepted, even to use of kitchen facilities, will not be soon forgotten.

We left with high spirits even though with soggy (or worse) bedrolls.

We regret the unavoidable damage to your fine Park but trust it will not be as bad when weather has cleared as it appeared Sunday morning.

Yours sincerely,
Troop 20, Lockport

FARM NEWS

For Cook County by
W. F. Whiteside

Assistant farm adviser

The Park Forest 4-H advisory council elected new officers at its recent meeting. The following will take office July 1: Ty Thompson, chairman; George John, vice-chairman; Mrs. Robert Ebersole, secretary; Mrs. John Schulte, treasurer. The 4-H advisory council in Park Forest has been responsible for the introduction of 4-H club work into the community. Thru some very conscientious work on the part of the council members, local 4-H leaders and Mrs. Robert Colleen, 4-H Adviser, the program now boasts of thirteen 4-H clubs, with over 150 youngsters enrolled in projects ranging from homemaking arts to the study of insects, electricity, and automotive care and maintenance. This is a record of which all concerned can be proud.

The 4-H public speaking contest was held last week. Three 4-H'ers from the southern half of Cook county participated in the contest. They are: Tom Eisner of Park Forest; Agnes Enzweiler, Steger; and Audrey Mascitti, Steger. It was a real pleasant experience to sit back and hear these 4-H'ers talk about their experiences in 4-H and what 4-H club work had done for them. I certainly hope that the public speaking activity will become more popular among our 4-H members and that many of them will avail themselves of the very worthwhile experience to be gained by speaking before large groups.

A sweet corn demonstration has been planted on farm near Glenwood. There are twelve varieties in this demonstration. They will be watched throughout the growing season and their adaptation to this area will be evaluated.

The thistle control demonstration on William Keuch's farm at 175th & Central shows up nicely. Slow down a bit as you drive by this intersection on 175th street. You can see four strips where Amino Triazole spelled sudden death for Canada Thistle. This chemical appears to be a very effective weapon in the farmers' war against weeds.

Two chemicals applied pre-emergence for weed control in corn are under observation on the Herb Kohl farm, Rich township. The compound called Simazin appears to act very slowly in dry weather. According to some observations made on other weed control demonstrations, it appears that at least one inch of rainfall is necessary for Simazin to become effective. All we have to do is look around us and see we have had plenty of rain. It remains to be seen what effect the recent heavy rains will have on these weed control chemicals. They got off to a very slow start, since it was dry during May when they were applied.

There are many good reasons for pruning your shrubs - to remove dead, diseased or injured wood to shape plants, and to remove overlapping branches. It is best to prune most shrubs a little each year.

Shrubs that bloom in the spring and early summer produce blossoms on wood produced the year before.

These shrubs should be pruned immediately after blooming. Some examples are: flowering almond, forsythia, flowering quince, lilac, mock-orange, garland, spirea, Van-houttei spiera and weigela.

Shrubs that bloom later in the summer and fall produce flowers on new wood. These shrubs should be pruned in early spring before growth starts or in late fall after blooming. Shrubs in this group include rose of Sharon, butterfly-bush, hypericum, honeysuckle, hydrangea and Anthony Waterer spirea.

Would Make It Easier

Cook Assessor to Simplify Tax Records

Cook County Assessor P. J. Cullerton has ordered an all-out drive to simplify property tax records for the 1959 Quadrennial assessment scheduled to begin January 1, 1959.

In the 101 downstate counties of Illinois 1958 is the quadrennial year. Under Illinois law, real estate is revalued by the assessors every four years.

Cullerton has established a permanent Real Estate Index Number division in his office and appointed a career employee, John T. Havlicek, to head the department. Havlicek's assignment is to apply to every piece of property in Cook county a permanent number which will appear on every record connected with the property.

At present, there are different index systems employed by the assessor, the county recorder, county clerk, county treasurer and others. Often a taxpayer must go from one office to another and spend hours before he can obtain information regarding his property.

When the Cullerton program is completed, there will be a permanent number applied to each piece of property. This number, which will appear on the tax bill, will enable the property owner to check the record of his property in any office merely by referring to this key number.

"Havlicek is an experienced appraiser and well versed in the record-keeping procedure of the assessor's office," said Cullerton. "I have directed him to begin immediately installing this system and applying a permanent number to every property record card in the town of Rogers Park."

"Under the schedule I have outlined, we should have a permanent number on every property record in Chicago and the thirty country towns as well in time to employ the system for the 1959 Quadrennial assessment."

Other county officials are cooperating in the program which has been a long-time recommendation of the Civic Federation and other civic organizations.

Long-range economies, as well as improved efficiency, are expected to result from the system, according to Cullerton. But the most important feature will be making it easier for the average citizen to check the status of his property without too much red tape.

not provide for the extra guard rail.

In a nine-page opinion, appellate court said the basement stairway was without defect, the only one guard rail—not two—were made a part of the contract, and that this contract superseded anything else.

The court emphasized there were no structural defects in the house.

"It might have been different if there were some hidden defect that couldn't be learned until an accident happened," said Justice Joseph Burke, who delivered the opinion.

"Any one by casual inspection could see that there was no extra rail between the basement stairs," the Appellate court said, adding:

"From the time the parents took possession, the responsibility for the house, including the basement stairs, was upon them and not upon the builder."

Early New England women bleached their sheets by spreading them with sour milk and putting them in the sun.

It's What's in the Contract that Rules-Not the Model House

(CNS)—A contract's plans and specifications and not a builder's model home determines what the contractor must put into a house, the Illinois Appellate court has ruled.

The court set aside a $40,000 judgment awarded by a jury to a 4-year-old Morton Grove boy against the builder of his parents' home.

The boy was two years old when he stumbled on the basement steps of his home on July 21, 1956, his first day in the house, and fell thru an unprotected opening to the concrete floor four feet below. Physicians testified the boy suffered a fractured skull and permanent brain damage.

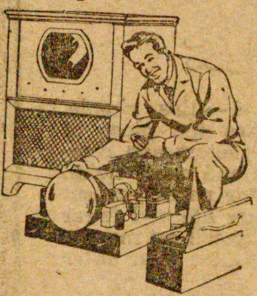

A jury in Evanston Municipal court returned the judgment against the builder for failure to provide a toddler's guard rail between the handrail and the basement stairs.

The parents testified that the model home they viewed before purchasing their home had such a guard rail and so did all of the 32 other homes constructed in the subdivision by their builder. The parents said they agreed to buy and the builder agreed to construct a house identical to the model home they viewed.

The turning point, though, for the appellate court was the fact that the plans did

An Economic, Fiscal and Tax Survey

From Congressman N. M. MASON (15th Cong. Dist. Ill.)

Between 1932 and 1957 the population of the United States increased from an estimated 124,974,000 to 171,000,000—a gain of approximately 36.8 per cent. During the same 25-year period the national income rose from $39.9 billion, current dollars having a purchasing power of $1.53 each to an all-time high of $335 billion, current dollars having a purchasing power of 49 cents.

During these 25 years government spending greatly exceeded revenue collections, and as a consequence federal, state, and local debts rose to unusual heights. The real impact of this deficit spending is reflected in the inflation which has progressively eaten away the purchasing power of our dollar.

The following tables show the relationship of national income to the total taxes collected by federal, state and local governments.

1932	124,974,000	$ 39.9	$ 8.2	$ 65.10	20.4
1942	133,770,000	136.5	20.8	155.59	15.25
1952	155,761,000	290.2	82.2	527.42	28.30
1957	171,000,000	355.1	99.3	580.57	27.96

(a)—Estimated population; (b)—National income (billions); (c)—Total tax collections (billions); (d)—Per capita collection; (e)—Per cent of income

Most of the talk about the present business slump in Washington and how to cure it is based upon spending more and more as a cure-all for our ills. Mighty little is being said about cutting out waste. The Hoover Commission has pointed out some five or six billion dollars waste in government spending, but little attention is being given that report. Here are a few samples of government waste:

1. A 41,000 mile road program was planned in 1956 at a cost of $28 billion. Now it is to cost $40 billion. This jump in the estimated cost is largely due to careless preliminary estimates, poor planning, and more expensive design.

2. Then there is the extravagant and unnecessary plan to extend the east front of the U. S. Capitol at an estimated cost of $40 million. A new office building for the Congressmen—absolutely unnecessary and unwarranted—at a cost of $60 million, etc.

3. We also have an extravagant and amazing Public Printing Program that produces such publications as: "Marine Annelids from the Marshall Islands" "Absolute viscosity of Water at 20 Degrees" "The Problem of the Cochran in the Late Pleistocene Chronology" "Natural Sines and Cosines to Eight Decimal Places" "Eminent Chinese of the Ch'ing Period"—and so on far into the night.

Why not try cutting out such waste?

During the 7 1/2 years President Truman was in office the administration in Washington spent $357.4 billion—more than all the former Presidents spent, from Washington on down.

During the 5 1/2 years President Eisenhower has been in office the administration in Washington has spent $365 billion—$6 billion more spent in 5 1/2 years than was spent in 7 1/2 years. Uncle Sam owes $275 billion. If he would plan to pay this debt in 50 years, it would require a payment of $10.7 billion per year for principal and interest and the total cost would be $534 billion.

If Uncle Sam would plan to pay his debt in 37 years, it would require a payment of $12.2 billion per year, and the total cost would be $450 billion.

If Uncle Sam would plan to pay his debt in 20 years, it would require a payment of $18.3 per billion per year, and the total cost would be $365 billion.

Pay your money and take your choice.

Country Club Hills

Judge Sets July 12 as Day to Ballot on Incorporating City

By EVELYN VAN HORN

(Filling in for Chloe White, who is on vacation)

Residents of Country Club Hills will vote July 12 on the question of whether they will form a city. Date for the election has been set by County Judge Otto Kerner. There will be one polling place, the Homeowners Association house at 17940 Thomas ave. The poll will be open from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The neighboring community of Homewood Acres, which is considering incorporation as a village, made a neighborly gesture when it dropped its claim to 375 acres included in the boundaries of the proposed City of Country Club Hills. This area is bounded by 175th st. on the north, Kostner ave. on the west and Central Park ave. on the east. The south line is along Clarence ave. (above 180th) between Kostner and Crawford and along 179th st. between Crawford and Central Park.

Date for the Homewood Acres election has not been set.

The proposed City of Country Club Hills covers 3.8 sq. miles of territory in Bremen and Rich townships, Attorney for the petitioners is George E. Brogan. The approximate boundaries at 167th st. on the north, Cicero ave. on the west, Central Park ave. on the east and Flossmoor road on the south.

At their June meeting, the Homeowners Association reported a series of major civic events coming during the next month.

Youth Activities will begin immediately in the field at the end of 179th and John. Athletic events will be under the direction of Dan Berdan, who is organizing a corps of men to supervise track, baseball, volleyball, etc. All families wishing to share copper. Investment men are not too impressed with this action as it may mean merely a lifting of heavy inventory positions from producing firms to government inventory. There has been a world wide over production of copper. The western copper producing states can trade their congressional votes with those who will aid their plans with reference to copper. The same plans for lead and zinc were rejected.

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

To stop a too fast increase in the rate of depreciation of the dollar's purchasing power, the Federal Reserve put steady pressure on the supply of money and credit thereby making it harder to secure borrowed funds by making money and credit scarce and more expensive—high interest rates. The pressure was steady and prolonged with a result it may have made money too "tight", but the inflationary results were very real.

The business recession brought about a reversal of the Federal Reserve policy accompanied by a number of efforts by Congress to pump renewed activity into the economy as a result of unemployment and slowing down of business. The residential building is showing an upsurge which will be of considerable importance by the end of the summer.

All governmental bodies (state, federal, and local) will increase their building activities due to ease with which they can sell their bonds to obtain funds. For a considerable period, the smaller communities simply could not sell their bonds to obtain needed funds since bond buyers became more highly selective in their bond purchases as money became tighter. The easing of interest rates and availability of funds, has brought many borrowers back into the market for funds with which to continue their public work projects.

One of the major reasons for the down-turn in business, was the slowing down and abandonment of expansion of the country's industrial plant. It will be surprising if the present low level of interest charges and availability of money, does not bring about an upsurge in plant expansion. Industry must anticipate demand increases for its products and dare not wait until such demand exists and cannot be handled due to lack of plant capacity. Many firms have lost their competitive positions due to not having been alert to needed plant capacity. Expansion of most industrial plant is more or less a custom built job when machinery and equipment especially built for that plant. Thus the need for planning and building prior to the immediate need.

The increasing popularity of Mutual Funds and their permanent place in the financial world, was attested by creation of a large new Mutual Fund under investment management of Lehman Bros., one of the largest and oldest of the investment banking firms.

Rumor in financial circles is that management of this fund, has invested heavily in steel industry. This would indicate a definite belief that there will be a substantial increase in this industry.

Funeral services for Charles Ulrich, 58, of Homer township, were held June 13, at the Goodale Funeral Home, with the Rev. Ray Hamer of Marley officiating. Burial was in Brooks cemetery.

Mr. Ulrich, who died in Silver Cross hospital on June 10, suffered a stroke at the Henry Tilsy farm the preceding day, while performing carpentry work there. The Mokena inhalator squad worked over him for about an hour before he was removed to the hospital.

He was born in Roberts, Ill. and had lived in Homer township for 20 years. His wife, the former Edith Tilsy, preceded him in death.

Mr. Ulrich is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Iva Behrbaugh of Michigan City, Ind., Miss Gertrude Ulrich of Chicago, and Mrs. Mildred Healy of Hoopston.

Trinity School for Retarded Elects Staff

The Trinity school for retarded children in Joliet elected the following officers for the coming year at the school recently: Mrs. George Bernard, of Mokena, president; David Vosburgh, of Joliet, vice president; Mrs. James Marcum, Joliet, secretary; Harold Likes, Plainfield, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard McLaughlin, Joliet, corresponding secretary.

The parent group thanks the outgoing officers for the splendid work and time spent aiding the school for the past year.

On Thursday, June 26, the children will attend the Olsson circus performance in Joliet. A picnic is planned for the near future.

A flag made by the children has been on display at post rooms of the Mokena Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Grapefruit are so-called because they sometimes grow in clusters.
